REVITALIZING AGRICULTURE THROUGH ORGANIC PRACTICES: A COMPREHENSIVE ANALYSIS OF THE SAMARKAND REGION'S TRANSITION AND CONSUMER DEMAND DYNAMICS

Introduction. Agricultural reforms transformed production and property relations, leading to significant shifts in the structure, essence, and methods of agricultural production. These reforms, spurred by socio-economic changes, propelled our nation to achieve self-sufficiency with a robust agricultural base and food security (Ahrorov F. 2012).. The comprehensive Action Strategy, spearheaded by our President, has successfully ushered the agricultural sector into a new era of structural advancements, marking a period of substantial progress and innovation.

Full text