
TRENDS IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE AGRICULTURAL SECTOR OF THE REPUBLIC OF UZBEKISTAN

Introduction. The role of the agricultural sector of the economy, both before and in modern conditions, can hardly be overestimated. The agricultural sector as a whole occupies a strategic position in the economy of any state, since agriculture acts as the main production system and performs the main task - ensuring food independence, and this is the key to the national security of the country. These goals can only be achieved through the formation of a stable and efficient agricultural production.

Full text